Management-reported KPI	June 2026	Management commentary
Monthly revenue	$1.6M	Growth attributed to enterprise expansions
Reported gross margin	70%	Excludes some customer-success allocation
Pipeline coverage	3.1x	Includes verbal and early-stage opportunities

Commercial update

Management reports that enterprise customers continue to expand usage. Two renewals were signed after quarter end; the company has not supplied contract-level support in this package. Pipeline figures include non-binding opportunities and are excluded from the Desk's deterministic return calculation.

Retention and concentration

Management believes customer health is improving, but the supplied customer file covers an eleven-month opening cohort and does not include parent-account mapping. The reported view therefore cannot establish annual NRR or parent-level concentration.

Margin classification

Reported cost of revenue includes hosting and support payroll. Certain implementation and customer-success costs remain within operating expense. A quality-of-earnings review is required before treating the reported 70% margin as fully burdened.

Forward outlook

The July 2026 forecast in the operating model assumes continued expansion and is not an actual period as of the June 30 cutoff. Management's scenario assumptions and package-requested thresholds do not represent fund policy and require analyst disposition.
